MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRI.

anticleer, sir, if you crow, right overboard you're sure to go.
Should Wilson call the Kaiser's hand,
I'm sure the Kaiser would disband His army there and then, and praise
The Lord that he and his were saved.
We'll let the Democrats now crow, for Wilson soon will have to go.
Land must otherwise be guarded,
else we'll find our fleet bombarDED.

A CARD.

To the Democrats of Mason County:
I am a candidate for Clerk of the Mason Circuit Court, the office which I now hold. I have been at my post of duty every day since elected. My records are open to inspection by the voters of this county, and they will speak for themselves. If you desire to take a look, call and I shall take pleasure in showing you. I shall be grateful always for what my party has already done for me. If elected, I shall give to the office my whole time and attention, and the very best service at my command. It is the custom of the Democratic party to give its officers TWO terms. The duties of the Circuit Clerk are complex and difficult to master, and it takes several years in the office to make one efficient. I have now mastered these duties and can give you much better service in a second term than I could in the first, though I have at times given my best efforts. The wise master does not discharge his servant after training him to give good service, but retains him.
I shall be very grateful to the ocracy for an endorsement.
Thanking you, one and all, for support in the past, I am, Very Respectfully,
JAMES B. KEY,
Mason Circuit Court.

TO START

EVANS-IGO.
Miss Elizabeth Evans, aged 18, and Mr. Asbury Igo, aged 19, both of this city, will be married at the home of Rev. J. E. Reed today.

Owing to the absence of the Rev. R. L. Benn, who is attending the meeting of the General Assembly at Newport News, there will be no services at Central Presbyterian church today, 23rd inst., except school at 9:30 a. m.

WILL INSTALL BEAUTIFUL INSTRUMENT.
The Pastime Theater will install a beautiful new Wurlitzer Band Organ in the near future. Miss Minnie Crawford will leave for Cincinnati next week to take a course in the art of playing this instrument, which combines over thirty band instruments, and is a beautiful fixture costing in the neighborhood of $5,000. It will add much to this pretty little playhouse, and Manager Ward will have all ready in two weeks, with a special program for the opening. The Pastime is noted for its progressiveness and this addition is only in line with their policy to have the best.

MINERVA.
Prof. John H. Carmody, of Cincinnati, will deliver a stereopticon lecture on "Fruit and Fruit Culture" at Minerva tonight and the is invited to attend. Prof.
Carmody is in the city all day today. A. M. Casey, and will discuss any questions to fruit with any one upon him.

evening at 7:30

GREATLY IN NEED OF SEWERS.
The people of Eastland are in great need of sewers that will carry off the surplus water of that pretty little suburb. At every rain the cellars and yards of the residences are filled with water. It is understood that with a little tiling this flooding can be stopped, and as it can be laid at small expense, it should be done at once.

PROF. JAMES A. BELL RESIGNS.
Prof. James A. Bell, head of mathematics in the Maysville High School, has tendered his resignation to the Board of Education, to go into effect at the close of the present term of school, which is quite a surprise to his many friends in this city. Prof.
Bell is recognized as an authority on mathematics, and the High School will find it hard to fill his place.

While Prof. Bell has not as yet determined just where he will locate, he will probably fill the chair of mathematics in some western institution of learning.
The Public Ledger wishes him success wherever he may go.

KROGER GROCERY COM- DISTRIBUTORS FORM- ALLY OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

In today's Ledger will be found the advertisement of I. N. Wood & Son, distributors of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, of Cincinnati, containing among a list of choice articles priced right, the announcement that they open on Saturday.

For some days the management has been busily engaged in unpacking and arranging the large stock of goods with which they will always be well supplied, and on the eve of their opening, the new and up-to-date store presents a very attractive and progressive appearance. It will be well worth the time of the busiest housewife to pay them a visit on tomorrow.

Messrs. Wood and Son promise the best of everything in their line, and will pay the best prices for country produce. They solicit the patronage of the citizens of Maysville and the county and hope to retain it by giving a service surpassed by none.

B. B. MARKWELL IN TOWN.
Hon. B. B. Markwell, of Mt.
Carmel, Republican candidate for the State Legislature from Fleming county, was in Maysville Thursday on business.

Mr. Markwell is of the opinion that the recent Republican victory in Chicago, and the Republican gains in St. Louis, a former strong Democratic city, are but forerunners of the victories to come, for the people have come to learn that Democratic principles are not for the country's best progress and that they will express their opinion at the elections to come no less forcibly than at Chicago.

Mr. Markwell is optimistic over the general outlook and believes that the Republican party has every reason to expect success.

BASEBALL NEWS.

The baseball bug has hit the populace of Maysville three times in the same place. At every street corner baseball is the topic of discussion. There are over twenty teams in this city, and every day a game is played.

The Maysville Regulars are the premier organization of the city, and the class of ball handed out by this team would satisfy the most rabid fan. It is one of the best balanced teams ever in this city.
They will play the Covington Kentons this Sunday, and a good game is expected. Manager Dresel's boys are confident of winning. The management of this team is trying to bring such teams as the Chinese team, of Hawaii, which is touring this country; the Cincinnati Shamrocks, the Nebraska Indians and other teams of like caliber.

Only good support on the part of the fans can make this possible.
Other teams are busy, and the baseball games that will be played here this summer will be too numerous to mention.

GARDEN DESTROYED.

Some small boys got into the garden of Mr. John Walsh, on

THE MOSQUITO PEST.

No graver responsibility than the conservation of the public health rests upon a community, and so far transcends other social or economic questions that neither time nor money ought to be considered a serious factor in the proper and prompt safeguarding of the life and health of the people.

Mosquitoes are a constant menace to life and health, and their elimination, although appearing to be a stupendous task, can be readily accomplished if every citizen will do his share in co-operation with the authorities.

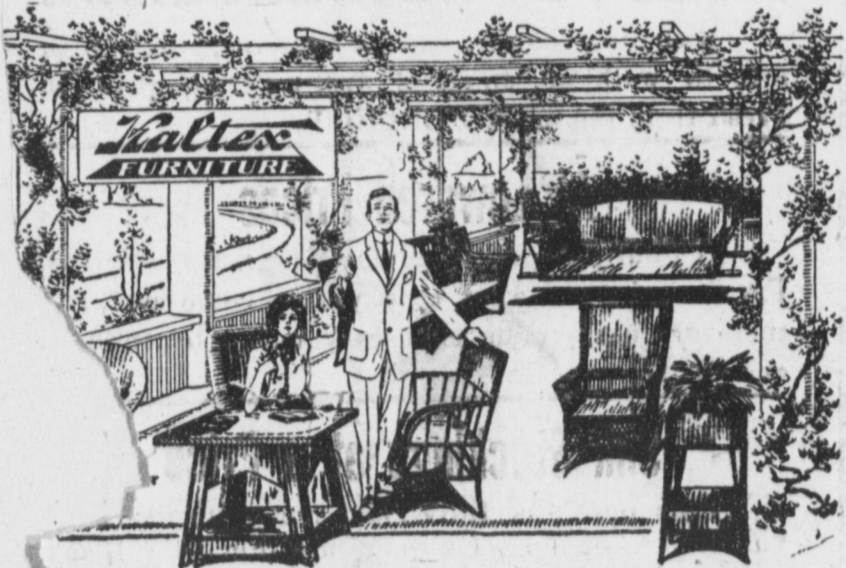

First step toward the elimination of these is to wipe out their breeding places before they have a chance to multiply, and then having a campaign, prosecute it vigorously during the summer months.

Breeding places are those overlooked unless our attention is directed to them. Mosquitoes breed in road cuts around bad drains or a ditch, in a garden, in the water well or pump, and in various pools of stagnant water.

It is the best method of but where draining is impossible, spots, using for the purpose and crude oil, half and the oil film covers the entire surface of the water, and the mosquitoes will not be able to breed.

Successfully done has been in places, notably on the Pacific being in a tropical country the mosquito is a pest. This was done there against the mosquito.

holder see to it that his property is properly protected from these pests and urge upon the authorities, through the mailman from his ward the necessity of protecting and treating all public places. We can do this actively only through real co-operation and a comfortable and a healthy summer will make the effort more than worth while.

THE SOUTHERN CORN BEETLE.

A Pest That Often Escapes Observation But Does Much Damage—Recent Outbreaks in Missouri and Texas.

Washington, May 2.—The past fortnight sections of the corn leaf have been attacked in the Charleston, Mo., it has been necessary to replant. The beetles have suffered less of being on higher land. Another of the outbreaks has been reported from Utopia, Tex., where serious depredations have been worked to corn by this pest. At this time the beetles can be killed, according to the experts of the Bureau of Entomology, by use of a poisoned bait composed of twenty-five pounds of wheat bran, one pound of Paris green, one gallon of low-grade molasses, the juice of three oranges, and sufficient water added to bring the mixture to a stiff dough. A heaping teaspoonful of this mixture scattered about each hill of corn where the beetles are at work, proves very attractive to these insects, especially applied in late afternoon. If the corn is drilled, the mixture should be scattered along the drill rows.

This pest has become of considerable importance in the past few years and is found in the southern half of the United States, but up to the present it has not been discovered in Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina or Georgia. It extends as far north as southern Iowa, central Illinois and central Ohio.

Besides the method of eliminating the beetle as described above, the cleaning up of all rubbish in the cornfields early in the fall, especially on the low black soils, and delaying the planting of corn in the spring are two methods of lessening the damage from the southern corn leaf-beetle.

The beetle itself is a small, dark, bronzed insect about three-sixteenths of an inch long and about one-third as wide, usually more or less covered with soil. When disturbed they drop from the plant on which they are feeding and hide so successfully that the farmer is often unable to discover why his corn is so seriously damaged.

The adult beetles lay their eggs early and always in the vicinity of the corn plant, after which they disappear from the fields. The larvae hatch in from six to fifteen days and feed on the corn plants or on cocklebur. Somewhere between the first of July and the middle of August the larvae enter the pupa stage, which appears to last approximately fifteen days, when the beetle of the first generation emerges. Between then and hibernation early in the fall, the beetles feed among other things on the kernels of unripe ears of corn, and on the buds of cocklebur. In cornfields they hibernate under piles of corn husks, fodder and shocks, etc., to emerge again in the spring to lay their eggs. But the beetles frequently appear in destructive numbers on young growing corn planted on sod lands where the ground had not been cultivated the previous year.

If the cornfields on the lower flat lands are cleaned up early in the fall, they will not be suitable places for hibernation, and the beetles will be forced to scatter elsewhere. When necessary, it seems that they can travel considerable distances without difficulty. It is also well to turn under uncultivated lands when it is expected to plant corn the following spring. If these precautions are neglected and the beetles infest the field early the next year, they are likely to do so much damage before the farmer becomes aware of their presence, that the crop is practically destroyed. In such cases, replanting can be resorted to, because the insects will leave the field a few days after they have killed out the first planting. Another significant fact is that the insects appear with considerable regularity from the south to the north. As a consequence it seems possible to delay the planting of corn until the beetles have disappeared.

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS

Many Maysville People Have Found This To Be True.

Are you wretched in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys?

Does your back ache and become weak? Are urinary passages irregular and distressing?

These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness. Weakened kidneys need quick help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys. Grateful people recommend them.

A. Sorries, locksmith, Aberdeen, O., says: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had backache and when stooping, it was hard for me to straighten. Colds always settled on my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped the trouble and my kidneys became strong."

The above is not an isolated case. Sorries is only one of many in the vicinity who have gratefully acknowledged the benefit of Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches, kidneys bother you, don't stop for a kidney remedy—ask for Doan's Kidney Pills, the Sorries had. 50¢ all stores. Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ELECTRIC RAILWAYS COMING.

Students of Electrical Engineering Paying Special Attention To Construction of Electric Locomotives.

"Danger! 110 Volts!" on a big satirical sign protected the public from a little miniature electric railway system at the recent remarkable exhibit given by the students of Highland Park College, Des Moines, Ia., on the campus of that institution. The track was a foot wide and the electric locomotive, although smaller than a boy's play wagon, had every detail of the big ones in operation on traction railroads. It pulled its loads up grades and darted around with all the assurance of a little dog trying to look like a big one. An immense amount of labor and technical skill was required to make this electric locomotive of such small dimensions. It is the handiwork of George Courtney, of Amboy, Ill., a student in the college of electrical engineering at Highland Park, and it was exhibited to illustrate the practicability of the work done by students there, along lines of great interest for the future.

WANTED TO BE A "SUB-MARINE."

Spokane, Wash.—"I want to be a submarine," said Applicant Charles Cable, a farmer, to Corporal William T. McCullough at the United States marine recruiting station in Spokane. "Oh, a marine," said the corporal. "No, a submarine," persisted Cable. The applicant looked desirable and worth explaining matters to. "You have been misinformed," argued the recruiting officer pleasantly. "A submarine is a boat which travels under water. If you enlist as a marine you will probably see lots of submarines, but you can't be one." "Then I can't be a submarine?" "Nope," said the corporal. With a last wistful glance at the goldfish in the globe on the corporal's desk, the disappointed applicant left.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING IS THE ROAD TO ECONOMY.

May Cherries.

"May cherries are on the market," says the market news, but it does not go into details. If it did and if it was truthful, it would read like this, "May cherries are on the market, but they are not evenly ripened and are somewhat too sour for pleasurable eating."

Yet this first fresh fruit is eagerly purchased by cherry lovers and there are many ways it may be used in and be enjoyed.

Of course we think first of cherry pie. Who does not when it is so full of flavor and juicy and good to the eye and the taste?

Make the paste with plenty of shortening and line a heavy pie tin or baking dish with it; fill with the cherries; sweeten generously and cover with the top paste. Pinch the edges close together and decorate the tops with fancy slits. Bake until it is well colored. The best cherries for pie are a mixture of sour and sweet ones; as they become plentiful remember this.

When serving cherry pie have it warm but not hot and dust powdered sugar over the top.

If you have but a few cherries, perhaps only a cupful, you can make a cherry pudding that will serve four and not seem to stint them over this recipe.

Cut a loaf of stale bread into slices, remove the crust and butter the bread. You should have one slice for each person to be served. Place bread in buttered baking dish and cover with a raw custard mixture made with one quart of milk, one cup of sugar, three beaten eggs and the stoned cherries. Butter enough more sliced bread to cover over top. Set the baking dish in a pan of water and place in oven, cover and bake forty-five minutes and then uncover and brown. Eat with a hot sweet sauce.

Cherry cobbler is like strawberry shortcake—the last word in good eating. The cherries should be ripe, fresh and juicy. Stone them and place in a shallow buttered baking dish. Add sugar to taste and with the sugar mix one tablespoon of corn starch. Dot bits of butter over this, using about one tablespoonful to a medium sized pudding. Add spice if you like it; it is not needed. Make the dough over the baking powder biscuit recipe that you use, but make it thin enough to pour. Bake until well done. Invert on a platter and the cherries will be on top and there should be waiting a hot sauce to serve with the dish.

For centuries it has been believed that the cherry has certain properties that promote cheerfulness. Modern science has proven this to be true by making the cherry bark into helpful tonics and today the wild black cherry and choke cherry are an important contribution to makers of medicines.

RECIPES FOR STRAWBERRY DISHES.

Who was it who said of the strawberry that God doubtless could have made a better berry—but He never did? Whoever he was, he voiced the sentiments of probably the great majority of the people who have access to this delicious fruit. Strangely enough, however, great numbers of housekeepers invariably serve the strawberry as a natural, forgetting apparently that variety is the spice of life, and that there are numberless delicious desserts that may be made with these berries. A few recipes for these are given herewith.

Strawberry Sponge.

Bake a sponge cake in a round pan. Carefully cut off the top, hollow out the center, and fill with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored and mixed with one cup of mashed strawberries. Replace the top and serve on a large plate.

Strawberry Whip.

One and one-fourth cups strawberries, 1 cup powdered sugar, white of one egg. Put the ingredients in a bowl and beat with a wire whisk until stiff enough to hold in shape; about thirty minutes will be required for beating. Pile lightly on a dish, chill, surround with lady fingers and serve with cream or boiled custard.

Strawberry Ice.

One quart box of strawberries, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup water, a little lemon juice. Sprinkle the strawberries with sugar, cover and let stand two hours. Mash, add water and lemon juice to taste, then freeze.

A delightful sauce for cottage and other puddings is made by a hard sauce—made by together a tablespoonful of butter with two of powdered sugar—sufficient crushed strawberries to make the sauce a color. Serve the pudding with the sauce.

Down as sweet strawberry is not only a culinary dessert, but an excellent recipe for the following: 1 tablespoonful of strawberry juice, 1 half teaspoonful of lemon juice, 1 third cup butter, 1 1/4 tablespoonfuls lard, one-third cup milk.

Mix dry ingredients and sift twice, work in shortening with tips of fingers, add egg well beaten and milk. Roll out until about two inches thick, and bake. Split and butter the sides, pile the lower half with strawberries which have been crushed and sweetened, and decorate the top with whole strawberries set in whipped cream.
